FOREWORD

Admittedly, the brief write-ups had been done decades ago – thus necessitating radical updating on subsequent travels to approximate present-day scenario.

Notwithstanding numerous travels, documentations were not previously done due to busyness and neglect.

Premised on the mindset that the travels made would be exercises in futility if knowledge and adventures would not be cascaded to the readers, pertinent data of the countries where the experience took place were provided before relating the experience.

Abundant but unlabelled pictures are being presented to share at least the perspectives, if not the beauty, of the places visited not to mention their evidentiary relevance.

The places featured herein are based from the listing of the Travellers Century Club (TCC).
